Address on Parenthood.

"Parenthood" was the theme of an ad dress by Mrs. Helen Van Anderson of New Circle of Practical Christianity in the Loan and Trust building yesterday afternoo The speaker discussed the opportunity of parents to form the characters of their children and won the confidence and at tention of her audience. She showed that certain traits of character which appear in children and which seem to be purely accidental are in reality the result of laws and can be controlled by intelligent, well-informed parents. The address was the beginning of a series.
